That's right, there's a side of Louisiana that you may not be familiar with... one that you have to experience to fully understand. The northwest part of the state, in and around Shreveport-Bossier City, is a little different than the rest of Louisiana. It's a mixture of the wide-open Texas spirit and the spicy Cajun attitude. Where cowboy meets Creole. Where spicy Louisiana crawfish meet big Texas t-bone steaks.

Our unique blend of cultures has a tendency to sneak up and surprise you. You come here expecting to explore our vast musical heritage, but it's not just jazz, it's country, bluegrass and folk music too. You expect the bright lights and fast action of the casinos, but excellent shopping and family entertainment is all around. If you're looking for a getaway that's full of variety and offers a taste for life, you've come to the right place.

Louisiana's other side is a term we use to describe our location in the state and our unique combination of Louisiana Cajun culture and East Texas cowboy heritage. On the surface there are a lot of obvious reasons people are drawn to northwest Louisiana.

From the glittering excitement of the casinos, the wonderful array of festivals, the mouth-watering local cuisine, fantastic shopping and numerous outdoor activities, to the museums and attractions – this area has all the necessary ingredients for a memorable getaway. That's what makes northwest Louisiana a hot destination. But that's not all there is to "Louisiana's Other Side."

Centenary College is located two miles from downtown Shreveport, the third largest city in the state of Louisiana. Shreveport is located on the west bank of the Red River in Northwest Louisiana. Over 300,000 people reside in the metropolitan Shreveport area.

Shreveport is considered the geographical, cultural, and economic center of the region known as the Ark-La-Tex, encompassing East Texas, Northern Louisiana, and Southern Arkansas. Shreveport is only a few hours away by car from other major cities such as Dallas and Houston in Texas, Baton Rouge and New Orleans in Louisiana, Jackson, Mississippi, and Little Rock, Arkansas.

Shreveport is separated from Bossier City by the Red River, but many locals consider themselves residents of the Shreveport-Bossier region as a whole instead of one of the specific cities. People who live here think nothing of crossing the river to take in an event, no matter which city is the official host.

There seems to always be a festival going on that shines a spotlight on some aspect of life in Shreveport-Bossier that is unique. In May, the Mudbug Madness Festival celebrates the abundance of crawfish found in the area, while African-American culture is celebrated in June with the Good Times Roll Festival, featuring music, art and food.

One of the major highlights of the year in Shreveport is the State Fair of Louisiana, held every October. The fair features more than 70 rides and one of the finest livestock gatherings in the United States.

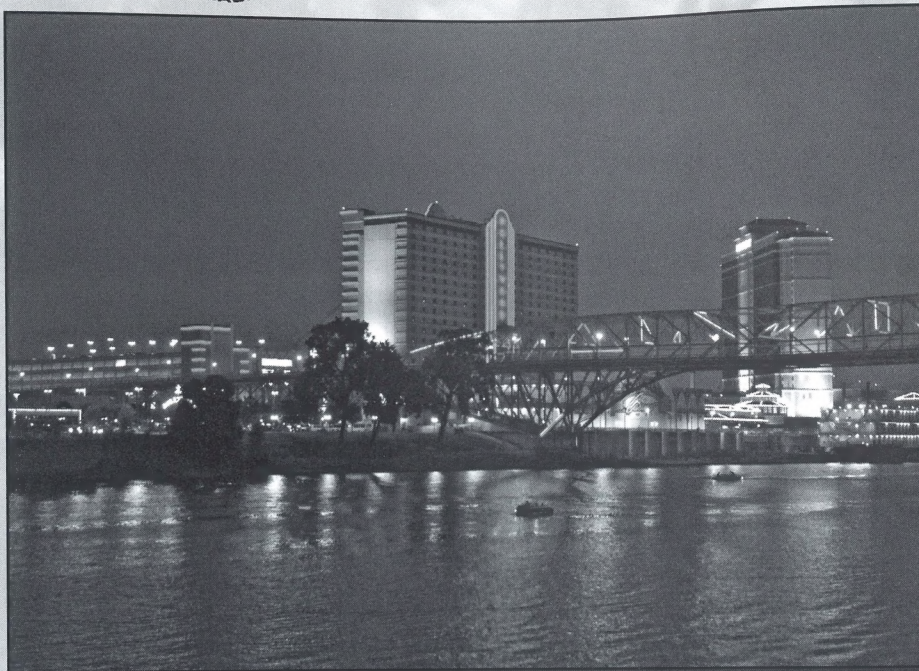

Another major event that showcases Shreveport on a national level is the Independence Bowl, held in late December. The annual football game, featuring a team from the Big 12 Conference against one from the Southeastern Conference, is carried on national television and showcases the Shreveport-Bossier community coming together to make the event a success.

That is not the only athletic competition held in the area. The CenturyTel Center, a 12,000-seat arena opened in 2000, is the home of minor league hockey and arena football, as well as basketball games and wrestling events. National fishing tournaments and golf tournaments have also been brought to Shreveport-Bossier in recent years.

The area features a wide range of museums, from autos and aviation to science and Elvis Presley. Many of the buildings in downtown Shreveport are now listed on the National Register of Historic Places, and a trip to the piney woods of Northwest Louisiana will yield visits to rural towns such as Vivian, Plain Dealing and Shongaloo, each one with its own collection of treasures, history, and fine dining.

There are plenty of outdoor activities in the Shreveport-Bossier area. From hiking at the Cypress Black Bayou Recreational Area to golfing at Olde Oaks Golf Club, a Hal Sutton signature course and part of the Audubon Golf Trail, there is something for everyone.

Centenary College of Louisiana is a selective liberal arts college offering undergraduate programs in the arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences, as well as a limited number of graduate programs. Students and faculty work together to sustain a community focused on ethical and intellectual development, respect and concern for human and spiritual values, and the joy of creativity and discovery. Consistent with its affiliation with the United Methodist Church, the College encourages a lifelong dedication not only to learning but also to serving others.

In pursuit of these ideals, the College challenges its students to write and speak clearly; to read, listen, and think critically; to comprehend, interpret, and synthesize ideas; to analyze information qualitatively and quantitatively; to appreciate the diversity of human cultures; to respect the value of artistic expression; to realize the importance of a healthy mind and body; and to recognize the interdependence of people and the environment.

Academic Program

Centenary College of Louisiana offers three undergraduate degree programs: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Music.

The Centenary curriculum aims to produce graduates of extraordinary intellectual and vocational versatility who are prepared to assume responsible positions in their communities and professions. The College prepares its students in critical thinking and in the fundamental communication skills of writing, speaking and numeracy.

The core curriculum begins with the First-Year Experience, which initiates an emphasis on critical thinking and rhetorical skills in an interdisciplinary context. The balance of the core curriculum further develops these skills while it introduces students to basic areas and fundamental techniques of human inquiry. Specific core requirements are the First-Year Experience and selected courses offering inquiry in the humanities, mathematics, natural sciences, and social sciences. Additionally, all undergraduates participate in the Centenary Plan, which involves a service-learning project, career exploration, and an intercultural experience.

Academic Facilities

Centenary has a personal computer for one of every three undergraduates. Every residence hall room is wired for free, direct Internet and computer connections. Some 30 computer laboratories are spread throughout campus, as are numerous multimedia editing and projection facilities. The Magale Library, the academic heart of the campus, has a wealth of volumes, searchable databases, personal computers, multimedia accessories, and software programs.

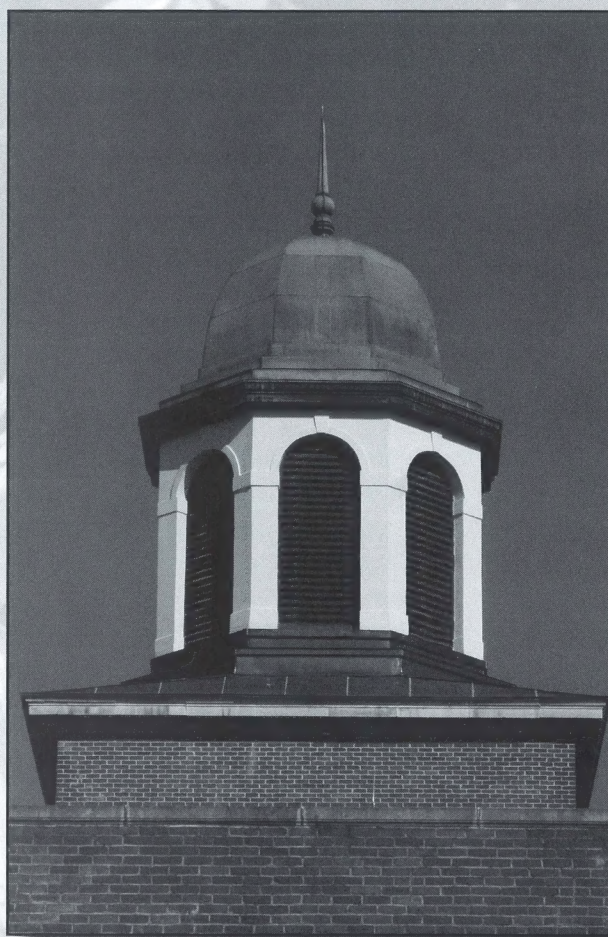

Specially equipped buildings and facilities include the Marjorie Lyons Playhouse, the Gold Dome, the Fitness Center and Swimming Pool, Mickel Hall of Science, Hurley Music Building, Jackson Hall, Turner Art Center, and the Meadows Museum of Art.

Faculty

More than 90 percent of Centenary's faculty holds the highest degree in their discipline. There are 74 full-time and 41 part-time faculty members, with a student-faculty ratio of 12 to 1. There are no graduate students teaching classes at Centenary. The primary emphasis is on teaching, although research and service activities are also important components of the Centenary experience. These activities involve undergraduates to an extent unavailable at large institutions.

Summary

Academic and co-curricular programs support students in their development and encourage them to become leaders in the work place, the community, the nation, and the world at large.

Centenary College of Louisiana has fielded an athletic team in at least one sport since 1894, when the football team faced Louisiana State University. Centenary's football squad was one of the best in the South in the first half of the 20th century, the high point being an undefeated 10-0 season in 1927.

Centenary produced professionals Conway Baker, Buddy Parker, and Cal Hubbard. Hubbard is a member of three halls of fame: Pro Football Hall of Fame, College Football Hall of Fame, and Baseball Hall of Fame. However, the poor oil economy in the area forced the discontinuation of the football program in 1947.

The 1920s saw the establishment of the men's basketball and baseball teams at Centenary. The basketball Gents have had 45 seasons with a .500 or better winning percentage, including the 2003-2004 campaign.

From 1972 to 1976, Robert Parish dominated Centenary's opponents, leading the Gents to an 87-21 record over that span. Parish still holds numerous Centenary records, including the single game scoring record (50 points vs. Lamar in 1972), the single season rebounding record (18.7 rpg in 1972-73), and the career record for most field goals made (1,034). Parish was drafted in the first round by the Golden State Warriors in 1976 and later, as part of arguably the greatest frontcourt in NBA history, won three NBA championships with the Boston Celtics in the 1980s. In September 2003, Parish was inducted into the National Basketball Hall of Fame.

With its 1,000-seat stadium, the baseball team is attracting top players to play for Centenary and top teams to play against the Gents. Thirty-two players who put on the Centenary uniform have gone on to play professionally. In recent years, the Gents have hosted, Arkansas, Nebraska, Texas A&M, and LSU in Shreveport.

In 1980 the Golf Magazine College Player of the Year did not come from a traditional power. Hal Sutton, a native of Shreveport who stayed home to attend Centenary, won that honor as well as the 1980 U.S. Amateur. Sutton has gone on to win two Players Championships, a PGA Championship, and a Tour Championship, as well as earn a spot on four U.S. Ryder Cup teams. In 2004, Sutton served as the Ryder Cup captain for the United States squad.

Recently Centenary athletes have found their names at or near the top of the NCAA rankings. In 2000, women's soccer player Lara Brown led all Division I players in points per game and goals per game. Ronnie McCollum followed suit during the 2000-2001 basketball season, leading the nation in scoring. Andrew Wisniewski picked up where McCollum left off, finishing in the top 20 in scoring and steals during the 2002-2003 season.

With the addition of men's and women's swimming in 2002-2003, Centenary now sponsors 16 intercollegiate sports, as many as any other Division I program in

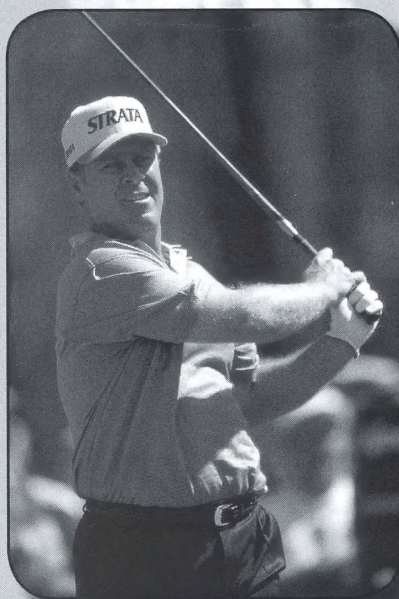

Larry Robinson '90

Northern Louisiana. Recent athletics highlights include the gymnastics team winning the 2004 USAG National Championship and the softball Ladies earning a trip to the NCAA Tournament in both the 2004 and 2005 seasons. In addition, Centenary athletes have won the Summit League's prestigious Student Athlete of the Year award three times since joining the conference in the fall of 2003.

The history of the Centenary athletics nickname "Gentlemen" is quite unique. First established in the fall of 1921 by then-Centenary President George Sexton, it seems the football team had been in a fight the previous game, and Sexton sat the team down before the next game and told the players, "...from now on, you will all act like Gentlemen."

With the majority of Centenary men also soldiers, the moniker "Gentlemen" or "Gents" was a logical choice. A tongue-in-cheek account that first mentioned the new nickname appeared in the 1923 Yoncopin (Centenary's yearbook) in the football summary.

The nickname has stuck ever since and it was natural to call the women's teams the "Ladies" when the school began women's sports in the 1960's.

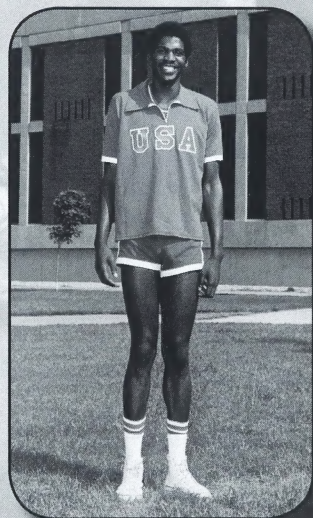

Hal Sutton '81

A five-time basketball All-American, Parish led Centenary to an 87-21 mark over four years (1972-1976) and brought national recognition to the Gents program. Behind the 7'1", 235-pound frame of Parish, Centenary broke into the Associated Press national poll at 19th and spent a total of 14 weeks in the Top 20, mostly during the 1975-76 season.

Parish was a dominant force on the basketball court as evidenced by the numerous records he still holds today. He ranks at the top of 12 Centenary all-time lists including most points in a game (50), most field goal attempts in a game (37), most field goals made in a game (25), most rebounds in a game (33), season (505), and career (1,820), highest single-season (18.7) and career (16.9) rebounding average, and most blocked shots in a game (10) among others. Parish holds the 10 best single-game rebounding efforts in school history and claims 16 of the top 22 overall. His four years playing in the maroon and white still serve as the top four single-season rebounding averages.

Parish was drafted by the Golden State Warriors and played 21 seasons in the NBA. "The Chief" as he was called, helped the Boston Celtics to three NBA Championships, was selected to nine All-Star games and was named one of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History in 1996. His trademark jersey number 00 has been retired by both Centenary and the Boston Celtics.

Robert Parish's Accomplishments at Centenary

-Robert led the 1973-74 Gents to a 21-4 record and the school's first-ever national ranking in the Top 20.

-His 1974-75 team was also ranked in the Top 20 nationally and posted a school-best record of 25-4.

-The 1975-76 Gents ranked in the Top 20 nationally for 11 weeks and finished ranked 19th with a mark of 22-5.

-During Robert's career, the Gents defeated high profile schools such as Indiana State, Arkansas, Hawai'i, Texas, and Houston while suffering close losses to Arizona and Arizona State.

-Robert scored a total of 2,334 points in 108 games in his Centenary career for an average of 21.6 points per game, which still ranks third in school history.

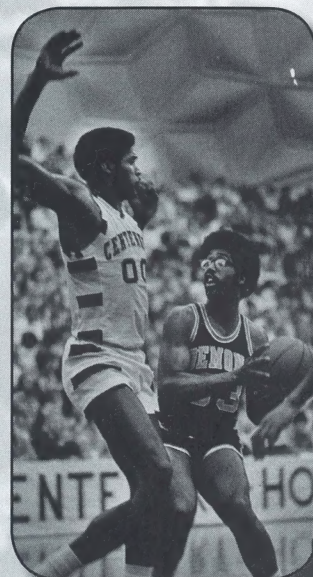

-He collected a Centenary-best 1,820 rebounds in his career. That total is still over 800 rebounds better than the next closest Gent today.

-He scored more than 36 points three times in his career and grabbed better than 20 rebounds on 16 occasions.

-Robert owns the four-best single-season rebounding averages in school history at 18.7, 18.0, 15.4, and 15.3 rpg.

-Perhaps one of the best senior seasons of any player, Robert averaged 24.8 ppg and 18.0 rpg in his final season in a Gents uniform.

-For his career, Robert averaged a double-double of 21.6 ppg and 16.9 rpg.

Centenary may be one of the smaller Division I schools in the nation, but that has not stopped the professional scouts from coming to the Gold Dome. Overall, 12 Gents players have been drafted in the NBA or ABA and recent players such as Andrew Wisniewski and Ronnie McCollum have attracted national attention. Scores of former Centenary basketball players have also enjoyed successful playing careers in Europe. Two of Centenary's more famous NBA alums include Robert Parish (Boston, Charlotte, Chicago) and Larry Robinson (Golden State, Washington, Boston, Houston, Vancouver, Cleveland, Atlanta, New York).

DR. KENNETH L. SCHWAB
President

Dr. Kenneth L. Schwab, President of Centenary College since 1991, has been firmly established as an excellent educator and administrator over nearly 30 years of service. During his career, Dr. Schwab has consistently applauded student-athletes who pursue academics and sports with equal fervor, discipline, and high standards, and it is these characteristics that make Centenary Gents and Ladies stand out among their peers.

A tenured professor in the Department of Education, Dr. Schwab hails originally from Indiana where he received his bachelor's degree from Purdue University in 1969. He then earned his master's in guidance and counseling from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro in 1972 and his doctorate in higher education administration at Indiana University in 1978.

Though Dr. Schwab has held many administrative positions at Centenary and other institutions, he continues to pursue his own scholarship as well, publishing a book, numerous articles, and several institutional planning documents regarding presidential leadership and transformational change. Indeed, Dr. Schwab's keen interest in leadership and strategic planning helped Centenary's latest comprehensive campaign raise over $100 million for the college. This amount exceeded the initial goal by over $30 million, enabling Centenary to build two new music facilities as well as renovate residence halls and the fitness center.

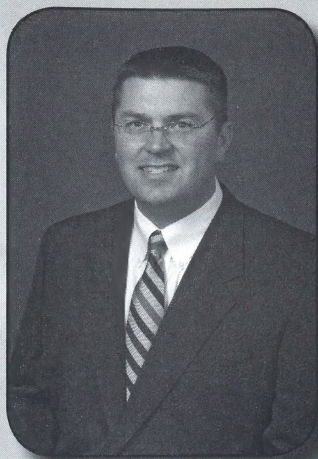

These improvements do not merely benefit the campus, though. From the arboretum to the chapel, the playhouse to the library, recital halls to the Gold Dome, Centenary encourages student involvement, preparing scholars for active civic participation. This small liberal arts institution focuses on the student and endeavors to facilitate academic, athletic, and social development for the whole person. Our faculty and staff are committed to these goals, particularly for student-athletes.

Dr. Schwab has actively involved himself with Centenary students throughout his tenure here. He team-taught Centenary's First-Year Experience program with the college's Chair of Liberal Arts one semester, and he travels with various Centenary groups like the college choir, always remaining a great Gents and Ladies supporter. In fact, he and the Centenary Gent mascot led the campus as they unveiled the new fitness center.

Active on-campus and off, Dr. Schwab participated in the Salzburg Seminar sponsored by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, served as a European Community Visitor to the Commission of European Communities, and continued his scholarly work at Oxford, Johns Hopkins, and Harvard Universities. He also represents Centenary on a number of community and academic boards, including the Associated Colleges of the South Board of Directors.

Dr. Schwab has three sons (Kempton, Carlton, and Christopher) played select soccer throughout their school years.

DR. TOM TALLACH
Director of Athletics

Dr. Tom Tallach, a Centenary alum and former Gents baseball player, enters his first year as Director of Athletics at Centenary after being named to the position on July 3, 2007. Tallach follows Taylor Moore, who stepped down to pursue private business interests after serving as head of the athletics department for three years, and Interim Director Glenn Evans.

A 1993 Magna Cum Laude graduate of Centenary, Tallach returns to his alma mater with over nine years of athletics administrative experience. Most recently, he served as Assistant Athletics Director and Compliance Officer at Tarleton State, a NCAA Division II institution in Stephenville, Texas, from 2005 through 2007.

Prior to Tarleton State, Tallach gained valuable experience at Texas A&M-Commerce (Commerce, Texas) over his 11 years of service at the school. At Commerce, he was the Assistant Athletics Director for the Lions athletics programs from 1998 to 2004 and spent his final 18 months as Interim Director of Athletics from February 2004 through August of 2005.

Tallach took an active role in administrative leadership at both of his previous stops. He was a member of the Division II South Central Regional Softball and Women's Basketball Tournament Committees in addition to serving on the West Regional Women's Soccer Tournament Committee. He was director of the Men's Basketball South Central Regional Tournament and chaired the Lone Star Conference Compliance Coordinators and the SACS Sub-Committee for Intercollegiate Athletics at Texas A&M-Commerce.

Tallach has a unique blend of knowledge that is perfect for the athletics director's seat. Not only does he have the work history in athletics administration, but he can also draw from his experiences as a coach, player, and a member of the faculty.

While at Commerce, Tallach was a teaching assistant in the Department of Health and Exercise Science from 1993 to 1996. He also was an assistant basketball coach at Commerce and Ouachita Baptist for a total of five years. His collegiate baseball career spawned back-to-back Trans America Athletic Conference (TAAC) Western Division Championships in 1992 and 1993 for Centenary, and he was named TAAC Academic All-Conference.

Evidence of Tallach's early leadership at Centenary can be seen on campus today, as he led the effort to conceptualize the Centenary Wellness Center in his role as President of the Centenary Student-Athlete Advisory Committee in his senior year.

After earning his Bachelor of Science in health and exercise science from Centenary in 1993, Tallach went on to acquire a Master of Science degree in health and physical education from Texas A&M-Commerce in 1994. He then earned his Doctor of Education in 1997, also from Texas A&M-Commerce.

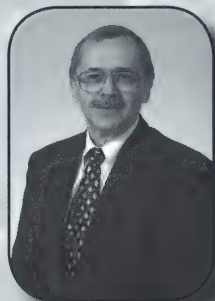

Tallach's hard work and vision have already produced results on campus. Several projects are under way including upgrades to video editing tools for scouting, wireless internet to the outdoor athletic facilities, and live audio/video streaming of basketball games. His immediate goal of boosting membership in The C Club has already been accomplished and then some.

Peck also served in the United States Army, the Army Reserve, and the Kansas Army National Guard for a total of 11 years of military service.

Edwards, Bradstreet, and Peck also supervise student and volunteer assistants as they gain valuable experience in their pursuit of becoming Certified Athletic Trainers. Student and volunteer assistants obtain practical experience at home and on the road, working with the Gents and Ladies athletic teams.

The Centenary College sports medicine facility is located on the bottom floor of the Gold Dome, where continued improvements have resulted in an enhanced facility.

The improvements include an upgraded computer system with injury tracking software, the addition of two stationary bicycles, and an increased storage capacity for the daily supplies used in treatments of student-athletes.

The training room is equipped with modalities to assist athletic trainers in the treatment of injuries of Centenary athletes. The room also contains training tables, an ice machine, and a whirlpool.

The Gents were 56-11 inside the friendly confines of the Gold Dome from 1998 to 2004 which included a 20-game win streak.

The geodesic Gold Dome, constructed in 1970, is a landmark located just south of the main Centenary College campus. Besides housing the Centenary Gents basketball team, the Gold Dome is also the home of the Centenary Ladies basketball and volleyball teams as well as the gymnastics team.

The multi-purpose facility, constructed at a cost of $1.3 million plus equipment, has a seating capacity of 3,000 with cushioned armchairs on the upper level and bleachers on both sides of the floor.

Unique features of the structure include indirect lighting and the attractive gold anodized aluminum dome. The completely air-conditioned facility also contains office space for the athletic department, the Donnie Wilhite Media Room, the C Club room, and seven large carpeted dressing rooms.

Like the building itself, the floor area is multi-purpose. A portable hardwood floor is used for basketball. With a Tartan-based surface underneath, the floor area can easily be converted into two crosscourt basketball courts, eight volleyball courts, or 16 badminton courts.

In the fall of 2002, the Wilhite Media Room was completed inside the Gold Dome. The room features stadium seating, a projector, and sophisticated computer software that allows teams to edit game footage in order to better scout and review opponents. The Wilhite Media Room is most commonly used as a meeting room for teams and staff as well as a working room for the media during events held in the Gold Dome. All press conferences are also held in the room.

The dome was designed by the Shreveport architectural firm of Somdal-Smitherman-Sorensen-Sherman and Associates. Whitaker Construction Company of Shreveport was the contractor and the Temcor Company of California erected the gold-colored dome. Opened in October 2000 and located on the banks of the Red River in Bossier City, La., the CenturyTel Center is a 270,000 square foot multipurpose facility capable of hosting up to 14,000 patrons. The nationally recognized venue features world-class concerts, basketball games, family shows, ice skating shows, motor sports, rodeos, conventions, religious and community events, as well as other special events.

Since the beginning, the CenturyTel Center has been home to the Bossier-Shreveport community's Mudbugs hockey club of the Central Hockey League and the Bossier-Shreveport Battle Wings franchise of the Arena2 Football League.

Recently, the CenturyTel Center was the site for an NHL exhibition hockey game and an NBA exhibition game between the San Antonio Spurs and the New Orleans Hornets.

Centenary obtained the use of the arena for the first time in 2004 when the Gents hosted LSU. The team hosted Georgia Tech there in 2006 and this season the Gents will play their final game against Louisiana Tech in the CenturyTel Center.

Greg Gary
Head Coach

On April 10, 2008, Centenary Director of Athletics Dr. Tom Tallach appointed Greg Gary head coach of the Centenary men's basketball program. Gary is the 20th head coach in the 84-year history of men's basketball on the campus of Centenary College.

Gary, who comes to Centenary after a one-year stint at Duquesne and a three-year stay at South Florida prior to that, brings 15 years of experience to the Gents program, all at the Division I level.

In his one season at Duquesne, Gary was part of a staff that led the Dukes to their first winning season since 1993-94 - and second in 22 years - with a 17-13 record in 2007-08. The '08 Dukes finished the season ranked in the top 10 nationally in four statistical categories: assists/g. (3rd), blocks/g. (3rd), scoring (5th) and steals (9th). The 82.3 points per game scoring average was the highest by a Duquesne team since 1974-75.

ing average was the highest by a Duquesne team since 1974-75.

The 38-year-old Gary spent six seasons as an assistant in the Big East at Miami (2000-01 to 2003-04) and USF (2004-05 to 2006-07, note: USF competed in Conference USA in 2004-05) prior to his arrival at Duquesne. No stranger to the state of Louisiana, he began his coaching career at Tulane (1993-94 to 1996-97) and returned to the Green Wave for two more seasons (1998-99 to 1999-00) after spending a year at McNeese State (1997-98).

Gary arrived with head coach Perry Clark's staff at Miami in 2000, where his responsibilities extended beyond on-floor coaching. At Miami, Gary supervised the academic program for the team and coordinated the offensive sets.

Gary helped develop a Miami program that reached the National Invitation Tournament in 2001 and the NCAA Tournament in 2002. En route to the NCAA appearance, the Hurricanes collected a school-record 24 victories. His recruiting efforts laid the groundwork for Miami's highly-respected 2006-07 backcourt.

In his second coaching stint at Tulane (1998-2000), Gary helped coach a team that reached the NIT in 1999 and 2000, working as the recruiting coordinator and academic coordinator in addition to his on-floor coaching duties.

During his first four-year tenure (1993-97) on Clark's staff at Tulane, the Green Wave went to the postseason each year, including an NCAA bid in 1995 and three NIT appearances (NIT Final Four in 1996).

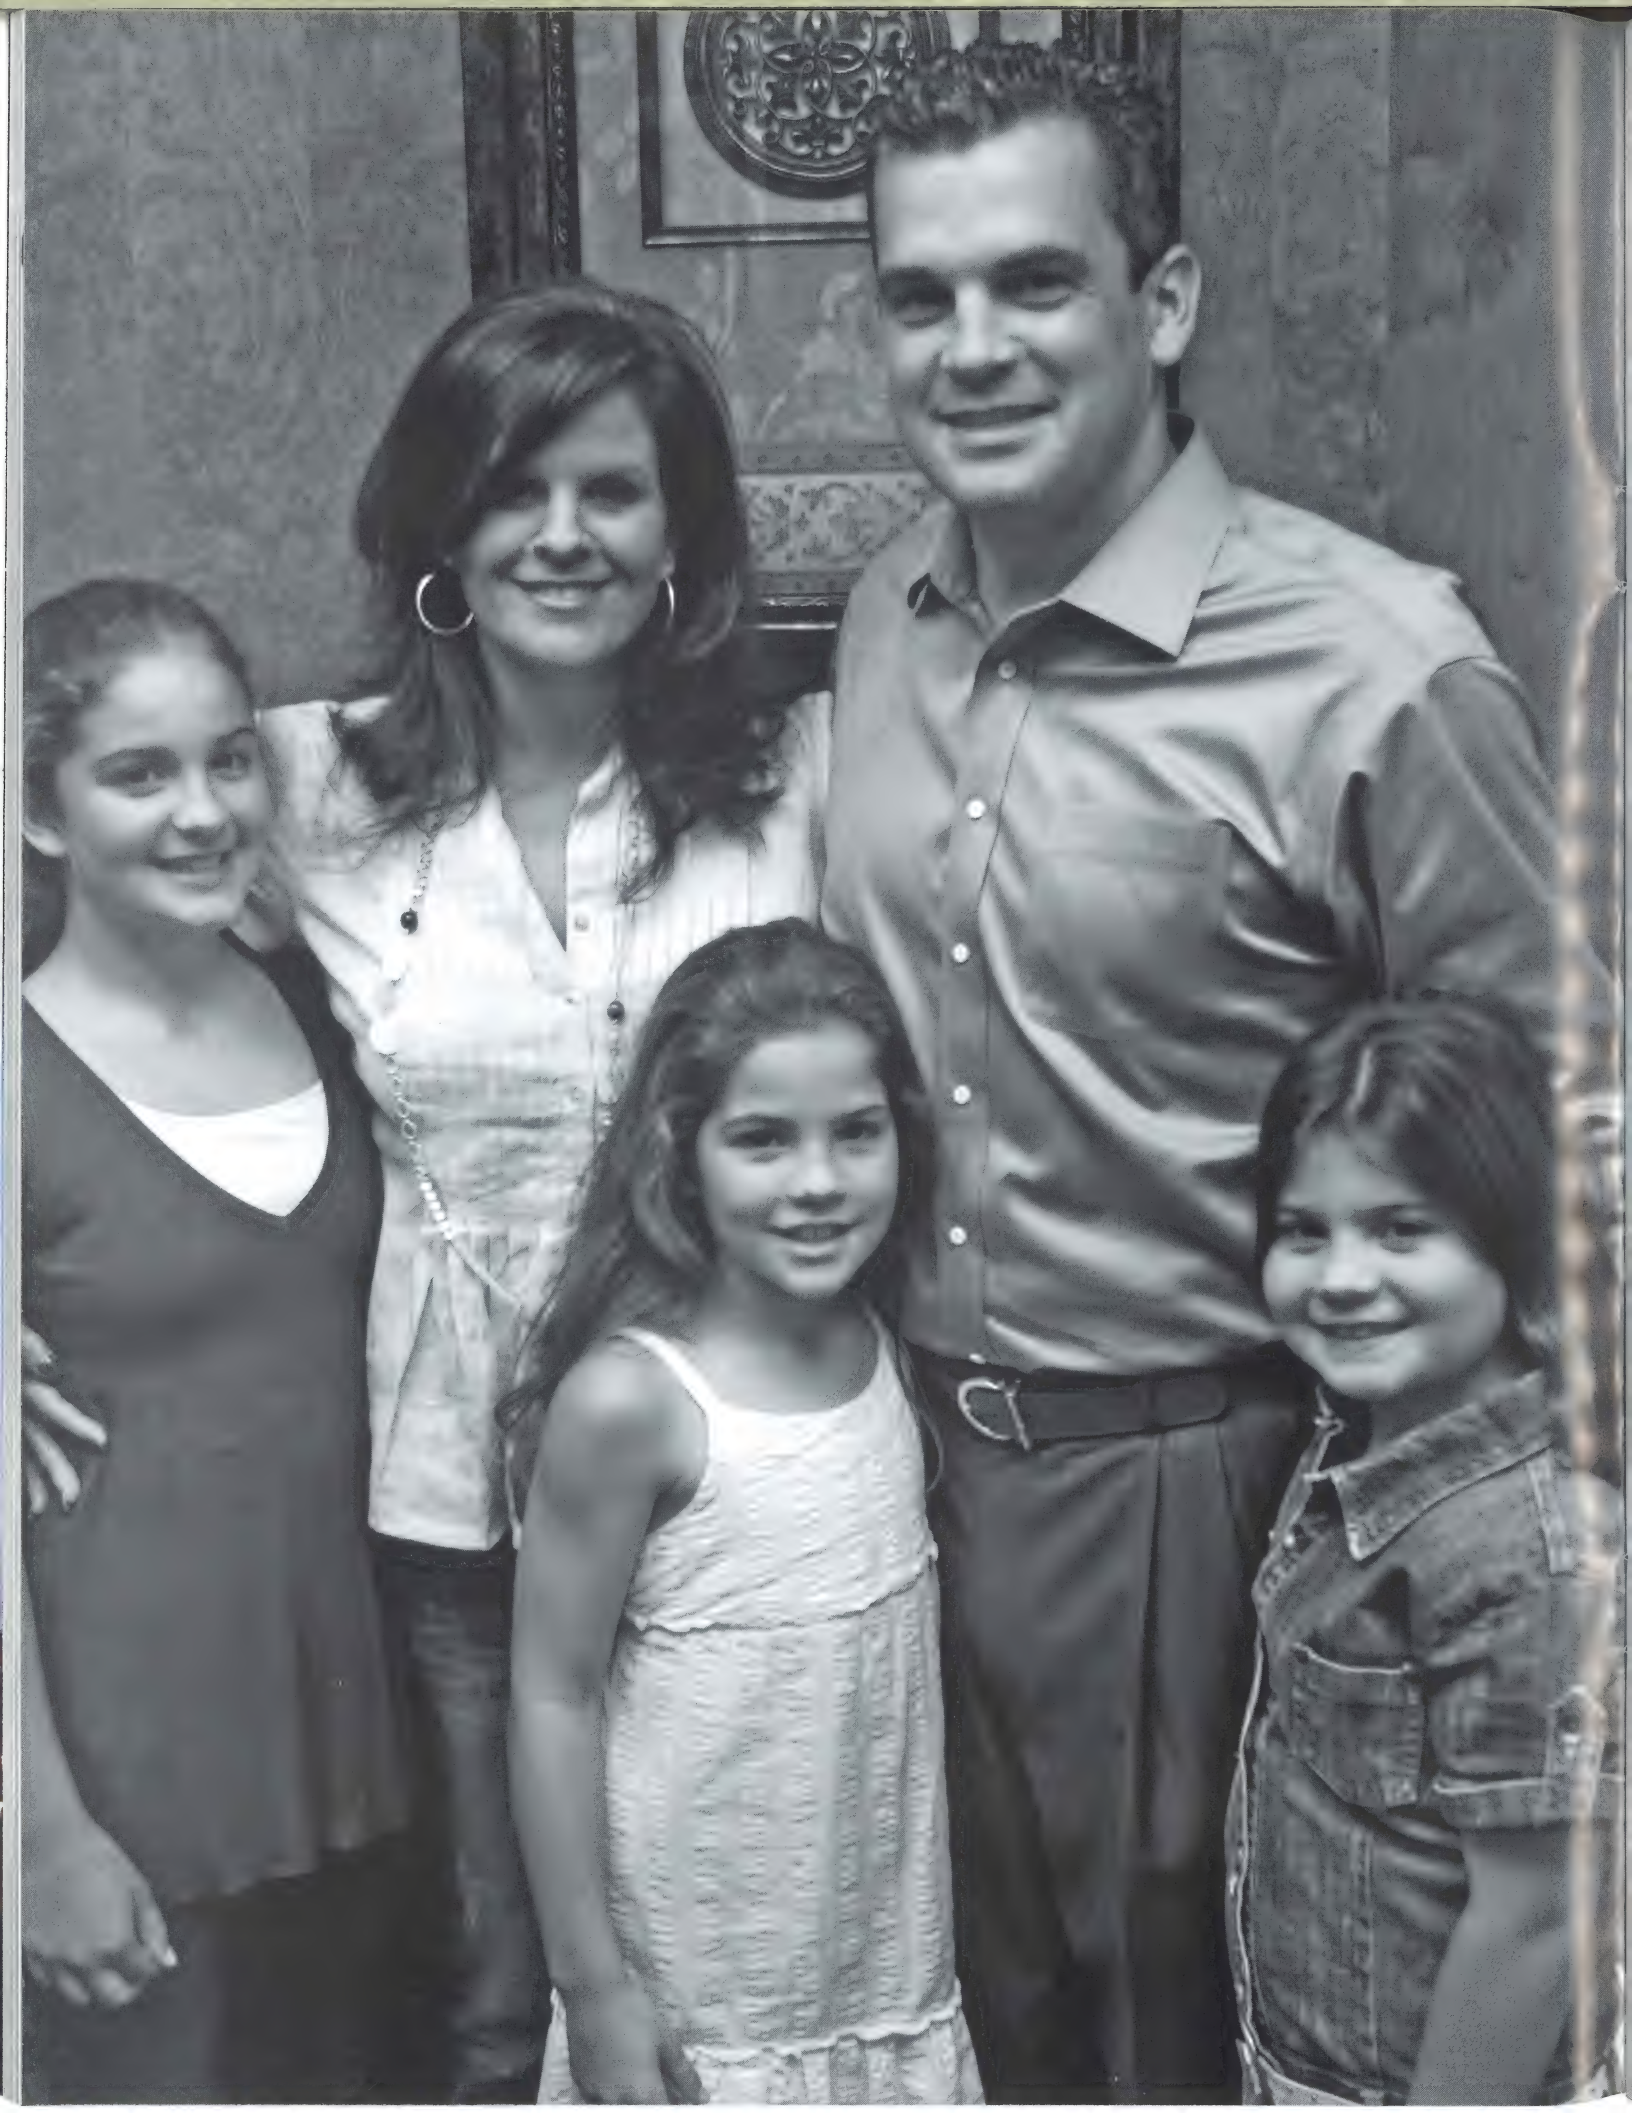

Gary has accompanied teams to a total of eight post-season appearances and recruited or coached eight players who have spent time on NBA rosters.

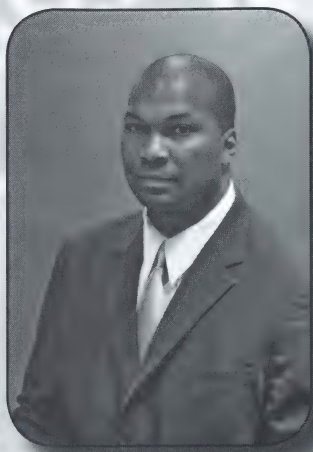

A native of basketball-rich Anderson, Ind., Gary played point guard for three seasons at Tulane (1989-90 to 1991-92), where he helped revive the Green Wave program after the school had dropped basketball in 1985. Recruited to Tulane by then assistant Ron Everhart, Gary finished his career as Tulane's all-time assist leader. He capped his career by helping lead the Green Wave to its first NCAA Tournament appearance in 1992.

Gary graduated from Highland High School in Anderson, Ind. in 1988 prior to enrolling at Aquinas College in Nashville, Tenn. which was a junior college at the time. He transferred to Tulane following his freshman season.

Gary completed his bachelor's degree in sports management at Tulane in 1992.

Gary and his wife, Claudia, have three daughters, Gabrielle (11), Logan (9) and Alexandra (7).

Carlin Hartman
Assistant Coach

After spending the last three years at Richmond, Carlin Hartman joins Greg Gary's staff, as the top assistant. Hartman is no stranger to Louisiana, as he coached at the University of Louisiana and McNeese State, while also playing at Tulane.

Hartman began his tenure at Richmond in June of 2005, and quickly recruited top talent in Atlantic 10. Kevin Anderson picked up A-10 Freshman of the Year honors after the 2007-08 season, while Kevin Smith won the Freshman of the Week award last season as well. During the 2006-07 season, David Gonzalvez received the conference's Freshman of the Week award twice. Hartman also recruited Josh Duinker, a 6-10 center from Sydney, Australia, who was picked by the Sporting News to be A-10 Freshman of the Year.

Prior to his time with the Spiders, Hartman spent a season with Louisiana-Lafayette, where he helped plan daily practices. He also coordinated campus visits for recruits and coached one of his student-athletes to a second team All-Sun Belt award.

Hartman had two stints at Rice; his most recent was from January 2003 to June 2004, where he coached three of his athletes to the All-WAC team. He also was a radio analyst for the Rice Radio Network for the 2003-04 season, before returning to the bench.

With the Owls he helped with off the court activities, such as the Dream to Read program and coordinated the Life Skills program. He also monitored study hall and was the academic liaison.

At McNeese State, Hartman organized a recruiting system, identified prospects and initiated and maintained written correspondences with athletes. He was also in charge of counseling players on class schedules and setting up tutoring.

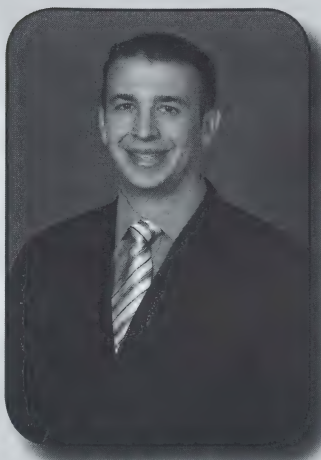

Over the past nine years he has also coached five future NBA players, which include Mike Wilks, Orien Greene, Michael Harris, Morris Almond and Tierre Brown.

Hartman earned a degree in communications from Tulane in 1994 and garnered several awards during his four years. After his time with the Green Wave, Hartman played for the Shreveport Storm of the Continental Basketball Association.

Carlin is married to Christine Hartman and the couple has four children, Sydney (13), Kailyn (11), Tess (10) and Joseph (18 months).

"I am extremely excited to have Carlin on staff. He is a first-class person with all the skills to become a head coach," said Greg Gary. "He is an excellent teacher of the game, evaluator and has great rapport with the players. He also knows what it takes to be successful."

ADAM WALSH
Assistant Coach

Adam Walsh enters his second year as an assistant on the Centenary men's basketball coaching staff. He comes to the Gents program directly from Paris Junior College where he was in charge of recruiting, post-skill development, and strength and conditioning among other duties. He will assist in those same areas under head coach Greg Gary here at Centenary.

Prior to his time at Paris Junior College, Walsh spent a season as the assistant at Odessa College and from 2003 to 2005 he was an assistant under Ronnie Arrow at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi. While with the Islanders, the team notched its first winning season at 15-11 and followed that performance up with a 20-8 record in the 2004-05 season.

For the 2001 through 2003 seasons Walsh was an assistant coach for the Division II program at Barton College. His 2002-03 team notched a mark of 22-6 and was ranked No. 24 in the nation. That year the Bulldogs won their first NCAA Tournament game in school history.

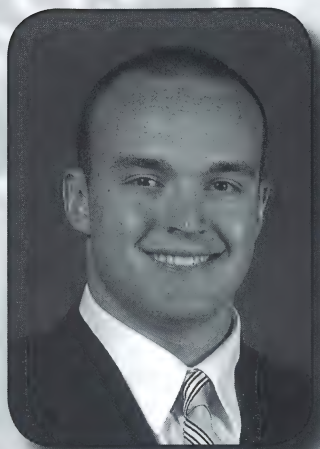

Walsh's first experiences with collegiate basketball came during his managerial days. He served as a graduate manager at Campbell University and before that was the head manager during his undergraduate studies at High Point University.

Camps are always a valuable teaching experience for coaches and Walsh is no stranger to the camp circuit. He has participated in camps conducted by Florida, Maryland, Virginia, Campbell, East Carolina, and Tennessee Tech among others.

Walsh hails from Winchester, Virginia. He graduated from High Point University in 2000 and attended James Wood High School.

"Adam has done a tremendous job," said Greg Gary. He is a tireless recruiter and is highly organized. He also has an outstanding knowledge of how success is earned."

Mark Richmond
Assistant Coach

Mark Richmond enters his first season as an assistant basketball coach with the Gents. His duties include on-floor coaching, recruiting, camps, and assisting with all general day-to-day operations of the Centenary men's basketball program.

Richmond comes to Centenary directly from West Virginia University, where he graduated Cum Laude in May of 2008 with a degree in Physical Education-Athletic Coaching Education.

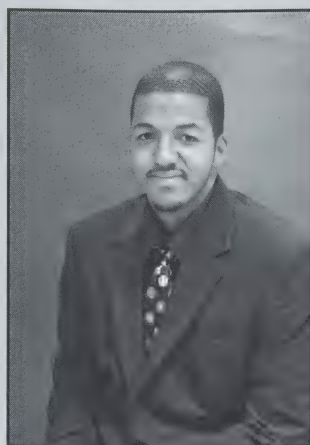

While at WVU, he served as a team manager for four years under legendary coaches John Beilein (now head coach at Michigan) and Bob Huggins. As a senior, Richmond was promoted to head manager where his duties also included organizing road trips and running camps.

Although this will be Richmond's first stint as a full-time coach, he is no stranger to Division I basketball. He was a member of the practice team at West Virginia and has been with the Mountaineers to two Sweet 16's and an Elite 8, and won an NIT Championship. He also has coached at numerous camps, including Duquesne, Villanova, and Virginia.

Richmond is a 2004 graduate of Martinsburg High School (West Virginia) where he played basketball, baseball, and football. He is the son of Tim and Cheryl Richmond and has a sister named Kara.

"Mark comes from an outstanding background, having worked for two great coaches in this business, coach Huggins and coach Beilein," said Greg Gary. "Mark has made an immediate impact on our players and this program through is tireless work and commitment. He is an outstanding young coach."

Season Review/Preview

Fresh off of its second consecutive trip to The Summit League Tournament, the Centenary men's basketball team will look to prove preseason voters wrong this winter, as the Gents begin their quest for a third invitation on Nov. 15 at Mississippi State.

When the conference preseason poll was released three weeks before the start of the season, Centenary was voted 10th by the league coaches, sports information directors and selected members of the media.

Despite that, the Gents do return second team all-league award winner Nick Stallings, who scored 15.9 points per game a year ago. Along with Stallings, new head coach Greg Gary welcomes back leading scorers Lance Hill (11.7 ppg), Chase Adams (8.2 ppg, 4.7 apg) and Anthony Gatlin (4.4 ppg, 2.4 rpg).

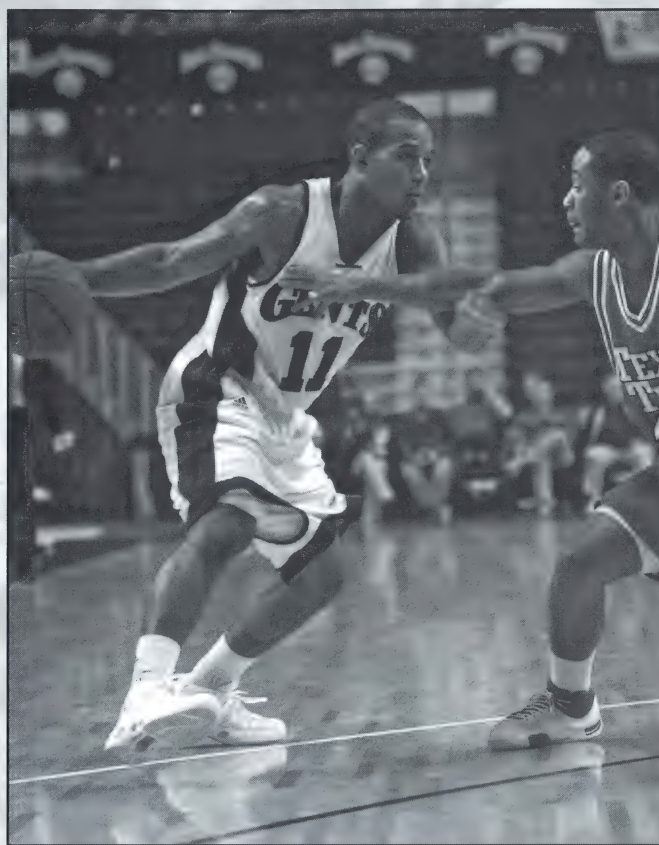

Gary and his staff will also have a lot of new faces on the roster this season with seven additions. The young Gents will have five upperclassmen, two seniors and three juniors.

"We have a good foundation of guys returning and a good mixture of young talent," said Gary. "I am confident we can get the basketball program turned around with the upgrades to the Gold Dome and weight room and other technology that will help our guys."

Guards

Going into the season it seems as though the Gents will have a lot of perimeter shooting and quickness. Gary has 11 guards listed on his roster, with Gatlin adding size to the 3-point shot, as the 6'8" Pearland, Texas, native made 15 trifectas a year ago.

Adams will also look continue his impact play, as a sophomore he gave off a team-best 146 assists. Adams is also just 28 career assists from breaking into the top 10 all-time at Centenary.

Among the new Gents looking to make name for themselves will be sophomore Roman Tuber, freshmen David Perez, Daman Starring, Tyler Johnson and Maxx Nakwaasah.

Johnson, who grew up in the Shreveport area won the Wendy's High School Heisman for the state of Louisiana. Tubner, meanwhile, comes to Centenary from Marion Military Institute, where he scored 3.5 points per game and dished 1.9 assists a contests, which ranked 43rd last season in the country.

Starring as a senior in high school was named all-conference and earned defensive MVP honors by his former teammates. Perez also earned high regards as a senior; he was awarded all-state for his on the court work and academic all-state for his class work. Nakwaasah improved his offense by seven points per game as a senior, scoring 20.9 points per contest in the Dallas area and was named first team all-district.

"We might have the best one and two guards in the conference, but they are going to have prove themselves this season with seven guards named to the all-conference preseason team,” Gary stated. “We will also have a lot of talent behind them to help out.”

Forwards

This will be the part of the team where there is not a lot of depth going into the early portion of the year. Hill will have to sit out the first semester, but playing in his place will be Gatlin, junior Jerrald Bonham, newcomers Brandon Harris and Gary Redus II.

Gatlin and Bonham will be the most experienced out of the group down low to start the year. Bonham started 11 games as a sophomore and played in 31, while averaging 3.6 points per game and grabbing nearly three rebounds a contest.

Harris comes to the Gents from Duquesne, where he redshirted last season. In high school the Akron, Ohio, native was ranked by the Cleveland Plain Dealer as the seventh best player in the area and was also named one of the best seniors in the state of Ohio by Rick Bolus’ High Potential Basketball Recruiting Service.

Redus will play the guard and post positions for the Gents, and the Decatur, Ala., native comes to Centenary from Marion Military Institute. As a freshman he ranked 12th in the country in free throw percentage (75), field goal percentage (49.8), 31st in blocks per game (.56) and 35th in assists per game (2.2).

“We can’t worry about the people who we don’t have this first semester, the guys we do have will go out play hard everyday,” said Gary. “Our guys that play the post aren’t just athletes who sit down low, they can also pop out shoot a long jumper.”

Schedule

Centenary’s schedule could arguably be one of the toughest in the country, with not one home game until Jan. 8. The Gents play Southeastern Conference foes Mississippi State and LSU (Nov. 28), along with traveling to Big 12 opponents Kansas

State (Dec. 20), Texas Tech (Dec. 23) and Missouri (Dec. 30).

The closest Centenary will get to play on the Gold Dome floor will be on Dec. 13 when the Gents play Louisiana Tech in the CenturyTel Center. This will be the last meeting between the two teams in Bossier City, next season the two squads will play in the Gold Dome.

Summit League play will begin on Dec. 4 and 6 with a trip to South Dakota State and North Dakota State. The conference schedule will pick back up at defending league champion Oral Roberts on Jan. 2.

“The first part of our schedule is going to be a character builder, and we will go out there play hard,” Gary stated. “When the conference season gets kicked into high gear we will be ready to play for our goal, a Summit League championship.”

Now in its 27th year as an NCAA Division I athletics conference, The Summit League is in its second year under that name. In May 2007, the Presidents Council embraced the Summit Plan, a strategic plan that places a renewed emphasis on improving the academic and athletic performances of all its student-athletes. Included in the plan was the creation of a new image of the league and the unveiling of a new name. The Summit League is the third name the conference has held as an NCAA sanctioned league.

* The Association of Mid-Continent Universities is founded with "Frosty" Ferzacca as its first commissioner.

* The initial AMCU line-up is Cleveland State, Eastern Illinois, UIC, Northern Iowa, Missouri State, Valparaiso, Western Illinois and Green Bay.

1983-84

* Green Bay and Eastern Illinois each play in the NCAA Men's Soccer Tournament, making them the league's first NCAA Tourney teams in any sport.

1985-86

* Cleveland State earns the AMCU's first national recognition in the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, upsetting No. 3 seed Indiana on their way to a Sweet 16 appearance.

* Southwest Missouri State begins a string of five consecutive postseason appearances by reaching the quarterfinals of the NIT.
